

Blast Off on Saturday, July 5th, for an out-of-this-world event as we launch our next mission to combat canine epilepsy! Teams (2 Dog & 2 Handlers/team) will soar through the cosmos, competing for glory across rounds of Agility, Jumping, and a pulse-pounding relay race featuring an all-tunnel course!

How it works....

- Each team will consist of 2 handlers and 2 dogs. The dogs can be from any level, any jump height or any height division (regular/select).
- The team event will consist of 1 agility round, 1 jumping round and 1 relay round
  - The agility round will be designed to the guidelines for the senior level
  - The jumping round will be designed to the guidelines for the senior level
  - The relay round will consist of a course of tunnels only and will be designed to meet UKI course and safety guidelines
- Clear rounds in either of the Agility or Jumping classes will count towards the dog's level progression. Clear rounds in relay class will not count towards any level progression
- No byes or certificates towards any future UKI event may be earned from participation in the High Octane Space Race
- $20.00 from each team's entry fees will be donated to Canine Epilepsy Research

How does scoring work....

- Team scoring for the agility and jumping rounds
  - Each team begins with 200 points for each class
  - Dogs are scored on a time + faults basis
  - Eliminations will be scored at 50 faults
  - Each dog's score will be added together then subtracted from 200 points to form the team's score
- Relay
  - Each team starts with 300 points
  - First dog will run their part of the relay, while handler is carrying a baton.
  - When first dog crosses finish line, handlers will exchange the baton in designated area.
  - Second dog will run their part of the relay while handler is carrying a baton.
  - Eliminations will be scored at 100 faults.
  - Team score will 300 minus time + faults.
- Overall Scoring
  - Scores from all 3 rounds will be added together
  - Team with highest score will be awarded 1st place

How to enter....

- Each team member will enter online via the UKI website
